Senior Class and Audience

O beautiful for spacious skies, for amber waves of grain,
For purple mountain majesties above the fruited plain.
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea.

O beautiful for patriot dream that sees beyond the years
Thine alabaster cities gleam undimmed by human tears.
America! America! God shed His grace on thee,
And crown thy good with brotherhood from sea to shining sea.

Benediction

TO THE PUBLIC SCHOOL PUPILS OF WINSTON-SALEM:

My visit to Winston-Salem will always hold for me a bright and happy recollection. I enjoyed being with you immensely, and look forward with pleasure to seeing you again.

Nowhere have I found a more attentive and considerate audience than you proved yourselves to be.

I leave with you my very best wishes for every success.

Miss Maude Miller

Because of her long career of service to her community and this school in the profession of instruction; and because, owing to unforeseen circumstances, she was forced to relinquish her position in our High School as instructor, and sponsor of the 1930 Senior Class, to render greater service elsewhere—it is with a sincere feeling of respect, admiration and gratitude, that we, the January and June Graduating Classes of 1931, dedicate the 1931 Black and Gold, to Miss Maude Miller.

JANUARY CLASS DISTINCTIONS

GRADUATION

Marching figures
Heads held proudly high.
Music soft but clear
Breaking the deep hush
In the still dark room.
So suddenly and queerly unfamiliar
Like a vast cathedral.

Sitting high—side by side to friends
Grown unusually dear.
Hearing vaguely—as if at a distance.
A man speaking.
A voice connected intimately
With things of the past.

Memories of tasks—of teachers;
Of joys—of sorrows, shared.
Memories that yesterday were actualities
That tonight are merely memories.
We feel suddenly timid and frightened.
But as quickly expectant, hopeful.

We are losing, but gaining, too!
We are stopping, but only to start again!
We are on the threshold of another battlefield.
But in our hand we hold a weapon
A similar roll of parchment—inscribed
"Graduated from Richard J. Reynolds High School January twenty-third, nineteen hundred and thirty-one."

—Routh Nash.

HISTORY

Class of January, 1931

THE DAY WAS DARK, cold, and dreary and the sleet lay heavily upon the ground. The lights that were given off from a stately building were thrown like soft ribbons through the mist across the sky. The hurry and scurry of feet told the small, inquisitive, and interested audience that nearly two hundred students were about to join the student body of the Richard J. Reynolds High School. Fear? Before this time there had been no such thing as our pounding hearts now knew. Dwight Linville, who was then the president of the student body, made a lasting impression upon the newcomers in his welcome in behalf of the entire school, "Your best is enough!" With this ringing anew in our ears we struggled, as all Freshmen do, through the first of those four glorious years of youth.

Has it not always been said that the Sophomore class is the most unpopular class of the four? They simply do not seem to fit in. Poor Sophomores! This class was led by Charles Blair as the president and Mrs. Anderson its sponsor.

As the third year rolled around, M. L. Mott, Jr., was elected president of the class and Miss Louise Sykes was the sponsor. The tide turned and with grim determination written on each Junior's face, it was known throughout the school that a better understanding had been taken, by the faculty, of this phase of our life. It was decided by the officials of the school board that each month there should be four boys selected by the principal and his faculty to attend the regular weekly meetings of the local Rotary Club. Those who participated in this honor chosen during the junior and senior years were: Hubert Morris, Albert Blumenthal, Jesse Bowen, Thomas Wilson, Edmund Longworth, Ross Kerr and Charles Blair. At this time as was the custom, the junior "A's" gave the senior "A's" a party and as entertainment presented a Christmas play.

In athletics Fern Shelton made a promising manager of the girl's hockey team and Dorothy Knott was manager of the girl's baseball team. As for the boys Hubert Morris became a star track man and a few of the junior boys made up this team and the boys' baseball team.

Charles Blair became the president of the senior class and Miss Sarah Gwynn its sponsor. This last year things began to happen and they happened so rapidly that there was hardly time to record them. As has been said for years past and will probably be said for years to come, "Where are those longed-for, envied senior privileges?"

It has been the custom for many years to have a May Day Festival. This year the honor of May Queen was bestowed upon Ella White Cottingham and her court consisted of Margaret Schwarze, Rachel Dunnagan, Mary Duggins Mott, and Isabelle Denny. These maids were from the senior "B" class.

One morning there took place a very solemn ceremony which initiated Pauline Perry, Audrey Morris, Bessie Garwood, Esther Lawson, Louise Stewart, and Isabelle Denny as new members of the National Honor Society. There was one other ceremony which initiated Routh Nash as a member of the Quill and Scroll Society.

Esther Roush is to be congratulated on her splendid and victorious tragedy, "Death Comes to Sonia."

For the first time in three years, the Gregg-Transcription test was won at 60 words a minute for the school by Audrey Morris.

No class has yet been better represented in the orchestra; this is revealed by the fact that Mr. Kutschinski has not been able to do without them even for graduation. Albert Blumenthal won first place in the music contest held in Greensboro.

During the last year there were several who portrayed remarkable ability along the dramatic line. The only ones who are really celebrities of the stage are Routh Nash, Rachel Dunnagan and James Hardie.

Fern Shelton was again manager of the girl's hockey team. David Holton was captain of the "Black Demons" of which he and "Horse" Isley were the senior constituents. The events came thick and fast as the end of the year was approaching. There was a party given to this class by the January Class of 1932. This was followed by Class Day and soon Graduation!

As the climax of four hard working years, it was announced that our Class had won the cup offered by the local chapter of our National Honor Society for the class having the highest scholarship average.

Looking back over the four years of hard work and interesting activity, it seems that we have accomplished some part of that which we had planned, "Climb though the rocks be rugged." Can it possibly be that those years of work, learning, fun and frolic are over? Yes, they are over but only that we may begin more strenuous years which give promise of being filled with interest with the continuation of learning, and with health and happiness.

—Isabelle Lawrence Denny, Historian.

WORLD WIDE NEWS REEL

SEES ALL, HEARS ALL, KNOWS ALL

SEPTEMBER 17, 1937

New York, N. Y.—Waving a gay farewell to their admirers, the only mixed American football team, sets sail for Europe aboard the "Mauretania" to compete for the international football championship. The team is composed of: Thomas Wilson, Captain; Dorothy Knott, Charles Matthews, Albert Blumenthal, Isabelle Denny, William Reich, Dorothy Fitz, Henon Urband, Ross Kerr, Lillian Maynard and Lincoln Donevant.

Charleston, S. C.—Five men haters—Evelyn Binkley, Pansy Bishop, Elizabeth Burke, Betty Hopkins and Helen Hurst—caught by the camera in the act of dragging their victim to the altar.

Hollywood, Cal.—Easily, Audrey Morris, Myrtle Keaton, Esther Lawson, Emily Myers, and June Morris swayed the emotions of the theatre going world, but in their new picture "She Saw A Mouse," we see them being swayed by the words of their director, Virgil Swaim.

Juneau, Alaska—In this land of ice, fish and cold, the "World Wide News" camera men came just in time to snap Richard Moore, Austin Sapp, Rachel Kimel, Charles Styron, and Howard West in the act of wishing they had arms long enough and breath enough to give the size of the fish they caught.

Bombay, India—Lector Dillon, Gladys Hauser, Geneva Jones and Allene Sides are successfully frightening the natives with the far-famed "Feather Foor Fanny."

Quebec, Canada—A strange sleeping malady which slowly descended upon Mary Mott, Daniel Redding, and Ella Mae Tutterow, six months ago, is puzzling the world's greatest scientists and doctors.

Mt. Vesuvius, Italy—In this lava flooded place we see Elizabeth Thompson, Clara Raper, and Mildred Tilley doing a good deed by attempting to persuade Mount Vesuvius to become a good scout and not erupt again.

Paris, France—Cocktails greeted the first efforts of Routh Nash and Hubert Morris to show the French how the fine art of becoming "one" is done.

Dallas, Texas—Much of the success of a distinctly novel road-house which serves only water and dog biscuits, owned by William Wright, is due to entertainers Virginia Weatherman, Annie Laurie Thomas, Thelma Nale, Doris Nichols and Lucille Jackson.

Geneva, Switzerland—The most far-famed students the world has ever known, Maurine Perryman and Virgil Bodenhamer, are caught in their studio as they are striving to unravel the great mystery of why fairy stories never unhappily end.

Atlantic City, N. J.—Here we see Mildred Davis, William McClenahan, Edrie Wyatt, Vermont Jarvis and Elma Barbee as they are preparing for their mad venture of attempting to swim the Atlantic Ocean.

Berlin, Germany—Charles Blair, millionaire, is having a building erected in which Fern Shelton will be the only cook, Helen Hughes the sole seamstress and all mechanical devices will be installed and cared for by Ray Hartley and R. G. Tuttle.

Algiers, Africa—One of the rare pictures taken of Ella White Cottingham and Louise Rothrock, rain fiends, as they walk, hatless, coatless and rubberless, gleefully through the torrents of rain while the inhabitants stare with amazed eyes at them.

Philadelphia, Pa.—Reading as numbered, Margaret Schwarze, Blake Henry, Sophie Wlodinger, Broctor Sissell and Brona Mae Nifong, famous librarians, are here seen taking notes on a lecture being given by the eminent psychologist Harry Fishel, on "The Psychology of the Wolf."

Kalamazoo, Michigan—Harold Carroll, Sarah Clancy, Rachel Dunnagan, Elwood Isley, Virginia Masser, Charlie Martin, Pauline Perry and Virginia Simpson are shocking and amazing the inhabitants with their freak circus in which two of the features are "The Laughing Lady," alias Weeta White; and "The Loafer," alias Jennings Warner.

Arizona—The new freak piano which laughs, talks and makes milk shakes, invented by Jesse Bowen, is being shown as Louise Stewart, Payge White, Mabel James, and Frances Groner are trying it out.

Chicago, Illinois—Seven world-famous archaelogists, (right to left) Bessie Garwood, Rebecca Thomas, Lillian Shelton, Ruth McGee, Virginia Lambe, Mae Bostic and Frances Garwood, meet for the first time in years to discuss plans for a search for the remains of once notorious gangsters.

Orlando, Florida—Beginning the year right. Reading from the center as the clock goes around—James Hardie, Nick Mitchell, Eloise Eagle, David Holton, Margaret Huffman, Bruce Lewis, Martha Hart, Edmund Longworth, Dorothy Johnson, Robert King, Nan Madison, Ernest Petree, Lily Gillie, Garvey Crotts, Elizabeth Johnke, Gilbert Lawrence and Ray McCall,—participants in the first grapefruit eating contest ever held.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Class of January, 1931

WE, THE MID-TERM CLASS of January, 1931, being of sound mind and memory, in full possession of superhuman intelligence, and therefore an exaggerated opinion of ourselves, do hereby make and publish this, our last will and testament, in order that we may distribute our many talents and virtues.

Item 1: We give and bequeath to the dear members of our faculty, who have been our seers, a sweet and unbroken succession of peaceful nights and days, free from the horrors of our English compositions and mathematical problems.

Item 2: We bequeath to the 11B class all of our students whose immature minds would not let them chew gum with as rapid steps in the mastery of Encyclopedia facts as ours did. May they excel in History problems, not forgetting that outlines are always due on Friday.

Item 3: We bequeath to the whole school that life-saver, the fire drill, which is always such a welcome interruption to boring lectures by well meaning faculty members.

Item 4: To everybody, we leave (on rainy days) the pleasure of going to chapel through the nice bright tunnel.

Item 5: We bequeath Ross Kerr's ability to argue, which always has the power to infuriate his teachers and get their minds off the lesson, to Margaret Cochrane.

Item 6: We bequeath Nick Mitchell's talkativeness to Melrose Hendrix, the most silent student in school, hoping that, at the same time, she will not spoil her record by inheriting any of Nick's laziness.

Item 7: We bequeath Sophie Wlodinger's curiosity to Roy Haberkern, in order that he may learn more about what is going on around him.

Item 8: To everybody, we bequeath the pleasure of wasting time in the library and getting away with it, by admiring the displays in the glass case.

All the rest and residue of our property whatsoever and wheresover, of what nature, kind and quality soever, it may be and not herein before disposed of, we give and bequeath to our Principal for the benefit of the future classes.

So we do constitute and appoint this said Principal sole executor of our last will and testament.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of January, 1931, have to this our will, set our hands and seal this, the 23rd day of January, 1931.

—Sarah Clancy, Testator.

IF THIS BE TREASON

Strange that a people
Should find it so necessary
To become tearfully sentimental
Over a rather insignificant
Step in the process of Growing Up.

Strange, too, the long speeches
Upon the many trials
Which we young hopefuls
Are supposed to encounter
After leaving this stage.

Is it not inevitable—
The Passage of Time
And the advent of Tomorrow?
Why, then, regret, or
Say we are sorry to leave
Simply because it is
The Fashion?
Are we dumb sheep
Or sane-thinking individuals?

And these long words
Of warning and wisdom—
Why tell us what we
Already know?
We do not face the Unknown—
We have met every unpleasant
Situation in this oddly
Vain pursuit of a Conglomeration
Of Facts.

I shall sleep thru the speeches
Or think of Yesterday's
Date—but never, Tomorrow.
That has become Today
And so holds nothing of Strangeness.

Poems are written for those
Who would fool themselves
With a vision.
Thoughts, for those
Who would scorn
The crowded path of tradition.
Would you weep for a
Party at which you danced
Yesterday—simply because
It is Past?

Or regret
A moment of grief
Because it will never Return?
A laugh or a tear of
The Past is as dead
As the moon.

That is why, having finished
These four years of High School adventures,
A person elected to sing
The usual heart-broken ballad
Chooses to say to the world;
"You've fought that, and will
Carry its scars forever.
Therefore, unless you wish
To be hacked and pounded
To pieces
Remember only those things
Necessary to avoid being
Wounded again.
The sweet and the happy
Things have left you
Nothing of value,
Save a fatal resolve
To be stung for the sake
Of the honey."

—Isabella Hanson.

HISTORY

Class of June, 1931

WE STAND HERE in the wind—gazing past commencement, visualizing our future—impatiently treading the path of the scholar—stretching forth eager hands for the unknown.

Our history hasn't been like that of the Knights of Old, but when we reach the threshold of life and knock at the jeweled door—past of the world—the adventures we experienced and the things we accomplished during high school will rush back, vivid in their petty significance.

Of course, we all have to be freshmen—green or otherwise, and there was a time when even we were quite impossible in the eyes of those august upper-classmen. Notwithstanding all this, as freshmen, the class of '31 had the distinction of being one of the most outstanding classes to enter R. J. R. Hi. With Fred Sheetz holding the reins, we galloped tempestuously over the thorny road of our first year. The seniors were vanquished by a hard-working debating team, composed of L. C. Bruce and Helen Davis, who carried the decision of the judges unanimously. Later, in the spring of the year, the same two, together with Paul Mickey and Ben Trotter, participated and conquered in the first freshman triangular debate to be held in R. J. R.

Geometry! ! Oh, what that one word embodies to us. Awful—the trials and tribulations that seemed to have found their way amongst we poor struggling sophs—who were supposed to be terribly sophisticated. We know now why Sophomores never do anything. Geometry makes temporary imbeciles of them. Clarence Watson showed us the way out—as good presidents do. Be a junior!

Ranking first in scholarship, our class sailed along under the guidance of capable Fred Sheetz once more. It was here we began to find out what it was all about. Four of our number took parts in the contest play "Death Comes to Sonia." Ruth Cumbie took first place in a state piano contest, as Isabella Hanson did in the State Short Story Division of a National Contest. At this time we knew our way about, and had realized that teachers were human. We began to join creative organizations—and also—more or less—to date. Our Junior class play, "The Poor Nut," we decided a success.

In our very last year, however, we became the much envied leaders, as we had so long desired to be. L. C. Bruce was elected president of the Student Body, and Brooks Bynum president of the Senior Class. Over half a score of our number became National Honor Society members, and eight of us were admitted to the National Quill and Scroll Society for High School Journalists.

Elizabeth Grey became the editor-in-chief of Pine Whispers, and Isabella Hanson the editor of Black and Gold.

Fred Sheetz won a scholarship, and Isabella Hanson was a co-author of the contest play winner, "East Wind's Spell." The varsity debating team of this year was composed entirely of seniors, and both negative, Slade Hardee and Brooks Bynum, and affirmative, Helen Davis and L. C. Bruce, won the triangular elimination debates.

Our ship of state, at last entered port triumphantly, carrying the class of '31, its colors at full mast. There had been rough wind and fair, calm times and thrilling. And here we are—on the eve of departure. Our grips are packed—our tickets are already purchased. It remains with us as individuals, whether we shall be the "masters of our fate."

STATISTICIAN'S REPORT

STATISTICS about themselves are probably the most interesting memoriam the Seniors could leave behind, for in this matter-of-fact age, we refuse to believe anything until they "show us." The following compilations are as accurate as is possible to obtain, in view of the first fact that many Seniors have a sense of humor and contribute outlandish answers.

The average age of the senior class is seventeen, the oldest being twenty-one and the youngest fourteen. The total number of years is 2,463.

The weight of the senior class is over ten tons, 20,749 pounds to be exact. The average weight is 144 pounds, the heaviest member of the class is 185 pounds and the lightest member weighs only 70 pounds.

Eleven thousand two hundred and sixty-eight inches is the height of the senior class or nine hundred and thirty-nine feet to be exact. The Empire State building hasn't much on the class of 1931.

Either the Seniors are very undecided or want to know a little bit of every thing; for 62 of them take a General Course while those ambitious young stenographers come next with 36 for Commercial!

Industrial Arts isn't so popular for it hasn't but 1. It looks like there aren't any cooks or house-wives coming from the senior class this year because only two are taking Home Economics! Woman suffrage?

Some very frank and husky person states that he wears a shoe No. ten! We are inclined to doubt that; while the statement that anyone wears a 2½ is beyond belief. Usually they are truthful though, and average around 6 or 8.

It seems as if the Seniors tie in the dates of their birthdays. The 11th and the 12th are the most popular days, the 3rd, 9th, and 16th, 19th, 23rd, 28th, and 29th for third. Every day some person has a birthday; but most days three or four become a year older.

Blue eyes lead among the Seniors. Big blue eyes, dark blue eyes, baby blue and blue green. Next comes brown. Then green and gray, and last and least, hazel, with 5. One Senior declares she (or he) has "just cat eyes" and still another "zane gray" while one seems quite undecided with "gray green and brown mixed."

"Kitty," and "Dot" are the foremost nicknames. Of course there are "Fattys" and "Skins," and now and then a "Baby," but the most characteristic we find to be "Half Pint."

What an ambitious group of Seniors. Over one-half of them walk to school. Others drive, they don't say what. One Senior was enigmatic enough to claim the "7c taxi" as his constant means of transportation.

Thirty-three members have selected the Ford as their favorite car. Now who's going to make fun of the little tin lizzie? Next to the Ford they have chosen the Chrysler, and then comes the Buick. One tried to pretend he liked the Rolls Royce, but we ask him, where's he seen one?

Many are the favorites when it comes to popular songs! Someone says his "Hurt" to "Whom it May Concern" and then adds "What's the Use." Many declare "I'm yours" and "You'se de One I care For." A few are "Minding My Business" but others are interested in the "Sweet Mystery of Life." One mournful person proclaims his favorite to be the "Funeral March!"

"Zut," "Mamma!", "My Cow," these are the favorite sayings of the dear little Seniors. Then some of 'em like to say "Dry up and blow away," "Do it like a dog," "Hot pups," "Squirt-toot." One seems to be very humble, for his favorite saying is, "Well I'll be a monkey!"

Who doesn't believe High School kids are love sick, especially the Seniors? Over twenty-five per cent of them confessed enjoying a love novel more than any other type of book. And after the love scenes they will read adventure and mystery. One intellectual Senior actually admitted reading and enjoying "Shakespearian" books!

They seem to be divided between three sports: football, swimming, and tennis. Then of course there's one per cent of the class favoring skating, and two voting on soccer. Soc-her-girls!

There are 33 different phases of school life that the Seniors prefer. Lunch comes first. (Is that why they weigh 10 tons?) Then others prefer study halls, club work, home-room programs and of course, sports. Some enjoy the "dreaming" part—and others "closing time."

Would you believe it? The favorite author of the class is Shakespeare! Richard Halliburton holds a great interest among them too, while Poe, Dickens and Zane Grey are close competitors.

As to the matter of favorite subjects, you will, indeed, be surprised to learn that History takes the lead with 29 votes, while English comes close behind with 23. Typing was the next highest and received 16 votes.

"The Deserted Village," "If," "Trees," "When Earth's Last Picture Is Painted," are the most popular poems. Who says the youth of the land is going to the dogs? Not with these poems in their hearts! But speaking of classics, exactly one-half of one per cent of the group voted on "Little Boy Blue" as their favorite!

We just dare someone to accuse the Seniors of not appreciating refined architecture! Their favorite hangouts are the Shakespearian Garden, the Amphitheater, and—Hanes Field! The others—more "nature minded," of course, chose the "Pines."

Next to people, they like reading—that is, the largest per cent. Next comes dancing, football, and music.

The boys seem intent on camping, listening to radios, and finding arrow heads. The girls read, go to the movies, and—believe it or not, cook!

The favorite animals would make a zoo—and what a zoo! There is everything from a cat to an elephant! The dog is the favorite domestic pet, while among the wilder species comes the monkey. One vows the June Bug is his favorite animal! (It must have made him "buggy" for authorities say a bug is an insect!) Another stated a zoozoolove to be his favorite; poor thing, does he believe in evolution too!

The favorite fruit seems to be the orange with the banana and apple running a close race for second. One Senior actually likes onions better than anything else. We wonder if he reads the Listerine ads?

Strange indeed are the favorite amusements, but true to life perhaps, for necking, flunking, arguing, dating, and new crushes lead the list. Some are more learned and prefer typing, parties, music, radio, and ladies. The most logical, perhaps, is eating.

Deary me! Who would ever have thought it? Forty-three different teachers are the favorites. You could never guess so I'll tell you the highest—Miss Margaret Lumpkin was perferred by ten and Miss Mary Wiley and Mrs. Beaman by eight.

And it is also safe to be deduced that many of these senior girls are going to be in a bit of a fix later, when only two have studied home economics. The "instinct" has become a "science" now, and must be studied!

And the Seniors have been well trained, assuredly. There is nothing either frivolous or crude in the poems they choose as favorites, and their choice of subjects, History which is usually proclaimed driest of all, shows one the serious minded side of the average student.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Class of June, 1931

WE, THE CLASS of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-one, wishing to express our appreciation to those who have so diligently worked with us and taught us, and who have been associated with us, do solemnly bequeath the following:

First: To our dear Alma Mater we leave our love, gratitude, and appreciation of the years we have spent here.

Second: To Mr. Moore and the other members of the faculty, who have worked with us, and pleaded with us during the four years of our High School career, we offer our most sincere devotion and gratitude.

Third: The Senior Class wishes to leave to the Junior Class the pleasure of trying to use their Library Passes for "Hall Passes."

Fourth: To the June Class of '32 we will the center rows in Chapel, that they may have the pleasure of being near Mr. Kutschinski's "Jazz Orchestra."

Fifth: The June Class leaves to the on-coming Seniors the task of persuading Mr. Haltiwanger to buy a cow, so that in the future there will be no "falsehood" uttered on that subject.

Sixth: To Louis Shaffner, Fred Sheetz bequeaths his scholarly ability.

Seventh: Upon Louise Taylor, Sarah Taylor bestows her most unusual "Sweetness."

Eighth: "Horse" Isley wills to anyone who has the desire to possess them his "crutches" and "fuzz."

Ninth: Frances Simpson wills to Laura Crim her "Queenish Looks," wishing that Laura will care for them as she has.

Tenth: To Henry Wimbish, Slade Hardee leaves his "good looks," and his ability to be well dressed, in order that Henry may carry on as the High School sheik.

Eleventh: Dena Newton bequeaths to Beulah Saunders her "winning ways," hoping that she will get her "many wants."

We do hereby appoint Miss Ruth A. Ford as administrator of our estate. This appointment is made in consideration of the excellent management she has given us throughout our last semester and our graduation.

In witness whereof, we, the Class of Nineteen Hundred and Thirty-one, do set our seal, this, the day of June fourth.

(Signed)

Gilbert Tillitt, Testator.

"THE EAST WIND'S SPELL"

WINSTON HI PLAYERS

Only those who had shown interest in dramatics by aiding in play-production were eligible for membership in the Winston Hi Players this year.

The Club adopted a constitution and candidates are put up for membership at any time during the school year by members.

"Captain Applejack," the first play of the season, a blood-thirsty and thoroughly picturesque three-act drama, revealed new talent in the dramatic field.

"The Circus Phantom" was an original one-act romantic thriller, blessed with an all but perfect cast.

It would be superfluous to discuss "Death Comes to Sonia." The play had a good press agent, and it took Sonia a long time to die.

"Jasper" was a scintillating and brisk comedy, also original and one-act.

"The East Wind's Spell" is the first of its type the Players have attempted to produce. A one-act fantasie, with three negro characters. It was coached by the Player's sponsor, Miss Hessie Watts, and Mr. W. D. Perry, and won state championship over Asheville in March.

Once more the Senior Hi-Y brought to a close a most successful year. Each Thursday evening the members met together for dinner at the Y. M. C. A. where the boys of the club were brought closer together in beneficial fellowship. The policy of the organization this year has been to secure an outstanding man of the community to speak at each meeting.

Many activities have been undertaken by the Hi-Y, one of the most important being the raising of funds for the extension of Christian work in China. Eight of the members were sent as delegates to the Older Boys' Conference held in Statesville, North Carolina, on December 5, 6, 7, 1930. With the club as sponsor a successful Sunday afternoon mass meeting was held on February 22, 1931, for the young people of the community and brought together about four hundred boys and girls. Dr. S. D. Gordon, of New York City, was the speaker for the occasion.

The social phase of the club was effectively carried out by two enjoyable parties, one at Hallowe'en and the other in March. The principal event, however, was the annual Christmas banquet held at the Reynolds Grill on December 29, and the climax of the season was reached with the yearly hay ride in June.

ART CLUB

The Art Club has done much for our school and deserves much praise.

Elizabeth Jenkins won second place in the Dramatic Club state poster contest. Joe King took first place and Elizabeth Jenkins second in the book week poster contest.

The club meets on the second and fourth Thursdays and study famous painters, architecture, and drawing.

An important annual activity of the club is the Parent's Night Art Exhibit. At this time the parents of the students are entertained by talks on art, sketches and art work. This work is done by members of the club.

The club has made numerous posters advertising the plays and other entertainments given this year.

LITERARY AND DRAMATIC CLUB

USHERS' CLUB

FORUM

The Latin Club, or "Forum," organized in 1925, has an enrollment for 1930-31 of twenty-five. During the first semester, Maurine Perryman served as president, Ina Wagner as vice-president, Baxter Moore as secretary, James Hutchins as treasurer, Margaret Schwarze as reporter, and Mabel James as chairman of the program committee. The officers for the second semester were James Hutchins president, Baxter Moore vice-president, Mary Lucile Pegram secretary, Naomi Clarke treasurer, Alin Perryman critic, and Maurine Perryman reporter. The vice-president served as chairman of the program committee.

At the first meeting of the Club it was suggested that the members hand into the chairman of the program committee topics in which they were interested. As a result of this most of the programs for this school term have centered around Roman life and customs. As one purpose of the Club is to gain a more thorough knowledge of the Latin language, and a better understanding of the cultural and practical value of Latin, a few programs were devoted to a discussion of the spread of the Latin Language, and how it is of value in practical life today.

SENIOR CLASS

Sadie Smulch

May Queen; Class Beauty (1, 2, 3, 4).
Sadie has been with us for some time now, and has had only 4 dates—one each with the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior classes.

Gabriel Quincy Mugg

Varsity Football (1, 2, 3, 4) Captain,
(1, 2, 3, 4)

Here's a man! He licked Charlotte, Greensboro, Asheville and Barium Springs single handed and without mussing his hair, he tenderly uprooted the goal posts and gently draped them over the library show case.

In Memoriam

May Rie Simps—Died of exhaustion trying to say something to Elsie Brutes.

Weighed Bryt—Perished while undergoing one of Mrs. Beaman's Exams.

Knotts O. Hotte—Met with an unidentified person who didn't use listerine.

Grete A. Gobbo—Died on the field of action while performing as hall monitor.

Jessica Bone—Who inadvertently broke a rule by studying in Study Hall.

CLASS HISTORY

FRESHMAN: Open season for snipes! Annual snipe hunt begins led by the year's Sophomore class. Alistair Sourdough-Bates dies from heart failure when told to wash behind his ears at the initiation.

SOPHOMORE: Initiation much fun. Death of Sourdough-Bates proves helpful hint. Seven froshes dead, three in critical condition. Sophomore picnic on Friday 13th. Ants ate all food except the vinegar, which we drank with great gusto.

JUNIOR: Annual Junior-Senior Banquet held. Soup served. Constantine de Courcy drowns. Six of our number still freshmen. Spy the thimble stars enter training. Starve to death.

SENIOR: Two dead from injuries received in lunch line. Great uproar—Reginald-Lindbergh-Coste-Bellonte remembers to bring home-work to school. Dies from lack of air receiving congratulations. Diplomas advertised as sheepskin, are found to be ermine. Faculty murdered. Good Work.

LAST WILL AND TESTAMENT

Being of temporarily unsound mind, and appreciating the full worth to the school of our leaving, we, the graduating class, hereby do release all things mentioned below as directed.

SECTION 1—We leave to the incoming seniors the rare senior privilege of eating their fish spread with jam.

SECTION 2—We leave to the Freshmen the delightful treat of shooting at the faculty and putting poison in their soup.

SECTION 3—We leave to the Sophomores a cache of nitroglycerine which will be found directly under the office, with the reservation that they blow up the school with part of it not later than next week. The rest may be fed to freshmen, who will be dropped from the highest point available.

SECTION 4—We bequeath to the Juniors the most exhilarating feat of reorganizing the Goldie and Blackie Staffe, with the suggestion that the applicants should wear armor and be surrounded by a heavy guard.

SECTION 5—We leave to Perigrine Winkleton the distinction of being head pencil sharpener of the class.

SECTION 6—In a spirit of sympathy, we disclose the whereabouts of a box of rattlesnakes, which are to be used in a necessity. Look in the ventilator in the center of the ceiling of the auditorium.

To which we set our handkerchief and Christmas seals.

AGONY

The Auditorium was dark, except for the stage, which was brilliantly lighted. A boy arose, and spoke a few words. A little gasp of pleasurable anticipation ran thru the audience as a well-known member of the student body began to read from a sheaf of papers. The audience was thrilled, leaning forward to catch every golden word.

They were reading the Constitution.

Hanes Underwear is a knock-out . . . but the price doesn't hit you hard!

Your pocket-book won't take the count, when you buy HANES Summer Underwear. Only 50 cents to $1.50! Yet it goes through round after round of washing and wearing, without getting seedy-looking!

HANES has plenty of what it takes to make really fine underwear. You can see that for yourself! Just rub the materials between your fingers . . . stretch the elastic at the sides of the waist . . . and give the seams a careful onceover. Don't pass-up underwear like this!

Try-on a pair of shirts-and-shorts. It's certainly a comfort to climb into HANES. The shirts are light as a feather; and really fit your chest. They don't wrinkle like an accordion. Neither do the shorts hike-up your legs, or cut and cramp the crotch. You can bend, twist, stretch, and reach—but HANES won't grip or rip.

LIFE INSURANCE AND THRIFT

Mighty is the power of time and compound interest. In 1853, 78 years ago, Ehrhardt V. Franz, having made $97,768 in the grocery business, left it in trust. A Federal Court reports that it now amounts to $10,000,000.00.

Save money and it will save you. POVERTY is SLAVERY. The man without a dollar must do what the man with a dollar tells him to do. So get your dollar.

Life Insurance is one of the best means of savings and the only guarantee of an estate.

HOW THEY THINK IT HAPPENS

MR. PERRY: We are gathered together this morning for the supreme purpose of selecting the most prominent members of the student body and faculty to be mentioned in the space between the ads. This is a very much sought-after honor, so beware of suggesting or writing about anyone who is not an outstanding person.

CLASS: Is Mr. Joyner prominent enough?

MR. PERRY: What does the class think?

Van Dyke's

"The Carolinas' Finest"

Style, Quality, Satisfaction, Economy and Service

Conveniently arranged under one roof.

CLASS: Well, nearly every student knows him after they have been in High School a week.

MR. PERRY: Well, he will do.

AND HOW IT REALLY HAPPENS

MR. PERRY: As usual, we have forgotten that we need anything to go between the ads. Get busy and write something original before you leave today!
